Keep baby entertained with this interactive board book from the award winning Baby Touch range! As they begin to interact with the world around them, babies find boldly contrasting images and distinctive shapes stimulating. They develop focusing abilities, spatial awareness and visual perception.

- High contrast colours are the first your baby sees. Make some simple black and white patterns for them to look at.

- Make a collection of safe black and white objects or fabrics from around your home. To find out more about high contrast colours, click here

- Hold a mirror up in front of your baby for them to look at themselves. Talk to your baby about who they can see. Babies are around eighteen months old before they are able to recognise themselves.

Twinkle Twinkle little star
How I wonder what you are.
Up above the world so high,
like a diamond in the sky.
Twinkle Twinkle little star,
How I wonder what you are.
