Meet all the baby animals. A perfect book for introducing simple rhymes and funny animal noises. Say baaa to the lamb, quack with the duckling and watch the bunny sleep.

Copy the noises your baby makes. React to what they're doing – try saying things like, 'Oh, you're telling me a story,' or, 'Wow, you can make loud noises.' Visit Hungry Little Minds for more simple ideas and activities to try with your baby:

Take turns when you play and talk with your baby, this will help build their brain – 'My turn, your turn like a game of ping pong!'

Baby Animals Fun things to do!

First Words. Give time for your baby to look and point to their favourite pictures. Name the objects they point to and offer sounds ...woof - dog, meow - cat, quack, quack—duckling. Allow your baby to revisit their favourite page as repetition helps their memory skills.

Introduce an action or gesture with your baby for each animal in the book. Run like a puppy, gently move their legs in a running motion.

Waddle like a duckling, sway side to side.

Snore like a bunny, shut your eyes and snore.

Meow like a kitten, tickle their tummy.

Do this again and again and your baby will anticipate what is coming next and eventually join in with the actions.
