

BABY TOUCH FARM

by Ladybird

Explore the farm in this bright, interactive touch-and-feel book for babies.

Sharing books with your baby.

Reading to your baby helps to stimulate their brain. You can enjoy baby book time from the moment your baby is born.

Babies like to look at the patterns and colours in picture books.

Talk about the pictures by pointing at things and naming what you see.

<https://wordsforlife.org.uk/activities/baby-book-time/>

Why do babies put everything into their mouths?

As well as using their little hands, it's one of the main ways babies explore the world around them. Their mouths are super-sensitive and perfect for trying a whole world of tastes and textures.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/tiny-happy-people/amazing-babies-mini-tastes/zbjm7nb>

Clip, Clap

Clip, clod, clip, clod,
off to market, never stop.
We'll be fast as we can be,
and be home in time for tea.
Clip, clod, clip, clod,
off to market, never stop.
Clip, clod, clip, clod,
home from market, never stop.
We'll be fast as we can be,
and be home in time for tea.
Clip, clod, clip, clod
home from market, never stop.

Bounce your baby facing you on your lap. Try pausing at some point - your baby will find it exciting as they anticipate the song starting again!

<https://www.scottishbooktrust.com/songs-and-rhymes/clip-clod>