

PASS IT ON

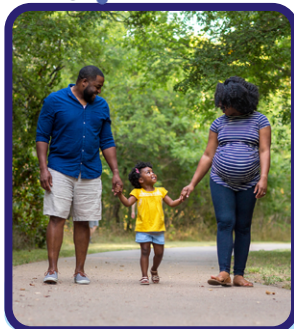

by Sophy Henn

A story about giving, sharing and joy. The book tells children that when they see something terrific, they should smile a smile and pass it on!

As you are reading, talk about how each child is feeling. Why not also have a go at BookTrust's feelings game?

<https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/have-some-fun/storybooks-and-games/faces-and-feelings/>

Nature Walk

Going for a walk provides lots of opportunities to build early language skills. Take time to notice and talk about the sights, sounds, smells and textures. Encourage your child to talk in longer sentences and with more detail by asking open ended questions such as 'Tell me about what you are doing', and 'How are these different?'

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/tiny-happy-people/nature-explorers/zj6nsk7>

Make a happy book.

Talk to your child about what makes them happy and use their ideas to create a happy book. You could add drawings, photos or pictures cut out from magazines.

This makes a lovely book that you can keep and read again as your child gets older.

Happiness is Something if You Give it Away

(to the tune of Love is Like a Magic Penny)

Happiness is something if you give it away,
give it away, give it away.

Happiness is something if you give it away,
you end up having more.

It's just like a magic penny,
hold it tight and you won't have any.
Lend it, spend it, and you'll have so many,
they'll roll all over the floor.

For happiness is something if you give it away,
give it away, give it away.

Happiness is something if you give it away,
you end up having more.

