

JUST IMAGINE

by Nick Sharratt and Pippa Goodhart

Just imagine what it would be like to be as small as a mouse or as big as a house. Imagine exploring the depths of the ocean, travelling into the past or the future – or something even stranger...

This wonderful book allows a child to tell their own story each time. With detailed illustrations for parents and children to explore together, this really is a book to share time and time again.

Make up your own stories together.

This book is packed full of imaginative ideas that will help you and your child dream, imagine and invent stories of your own. This is a great skill that will help your child when they begin to write their own stories at school.

Treasure your Imagination Library books.

As a child's reading ability improves, they often like to go back and read for themselves the books they had when they were younger.

Even if you think your child has grown out of one of their books, it's a good idea to keep it, as it's likely they will love to rediscover it for themselves in a few months or even years.

Why not find out how to continue your child's reading journey here:

www.bbc.co.uk/tiny-happy-people/bedtime-stories-top-tips/z47fsk7

Visit your local library.

Once your child turns five, they'll graduate from the Imagination Library; however, this is just the start of a lifelong love of books and reading. You can continue sharing stories with your child for free through your local library.

Find out where your nearest library is:
www.gov.uk/local-library-services

Get drawing!

Discover drawing tips from Nick Sharratt:
<https://www.nicksharratt.com/drawing-tips>