

BROWN BEAR, BROWN BEAR, WHAT DO YOU SEE?

By Bill Martin Jr and Eric Carle

A rhyming story all about animals and colours.

Point to each picture as you name the colours.

The Name Game

When you're out and about with your little one, spend time naming things. Saying what you see helps your child to hear new words.

You can then copy what they say and add a word or two to make a short sentence. It's a great way to pass the time and help increase your child's vocabulary.

www.bbc.co.uk/tiny-happy-people/name-game-18-24/z6jxmfr

Colour Scavenger Hunt

Go on a hunt around your house to see how many things you can find of each colour. You could make a sheet, like the one in the photo, for your child to match objects to.

Learning to name colours is a step in your toddler's development as it helps them with descriptive language skills, communication and understanding.

We Went on an Animal Walk

*We went on an animal walk one day.
We met a red bird along the way.
What do you think we heard him say?
"Tweet, tweet, tweet. Tweet, tweet, tweet."*

*Add the other animals from the story e.g.
Yellow duck - "Quack, quack, quack."
Blue horse - "Neigh, neigh, neigh."*

Say the rhyme, or for the tune visit:
www.bbc.co.uk/teach/school-radio/nursery-rhymes-i-went-to-visit-a-farm-one-day/z49yt39